书面表达

One possible version:

Good morning, everyone!

The topic of my speech today is "Hobby". A hobby is an activity that we enjoy doing in our spare time. Having a hobby makes us be an interesting person instead of a person who is addicted to TV, playing online games or doing other unhealthy tasks. It not only gives us something fascinating to talk about with others, but also helps us avoid feeling bored and provide the opportunity to meet new people.

As we can see, hobbies come in many forms. Some are fond of writing novels and short stories, some are crazy about outdoor activities, and others enjoy sports as a hobby. My hobbies include music, photograph, and tennis.

Thank you for listening.
