现在是听力试音时间。

M: Hello. International Friends Club. Can I help you?

W: Oh, hello. I read about your club in the paper today and I thought I'd phone to find out a bit more.

M: Yes, certainly. Well, we are a sort of social club for people from different countries. It's quite a new club—we have about 50 members at the moment, but we are growing all the time.

W: That sounds interesting. I'm British actually, and I came to Washington about three months ago. I'm looking for ways to meet people. Er, what kinds of events do you organize?

M: Well, we have social get-togethers, and sports events, and we also have language evenings.

W: Could you tell me something about the language evenings?

M: Yes. Every day except Thursday we have a language evening. People can come and practice their languages—you know, over a drink or something. We have different languages on different evenings. Monday—Spanish; Tuesday—Italian; Wednesday—German; and Friday—French. On Thursday we usually have a meal in a restaurant for anyone who wants to come.

W: Well, that sounds great. I really need to practice my French.

M: OK. Well, if you can just give me your name and address, I'll send you the form and some more information. If you join now you can have the first month free.

W: So what?

M: The sports meet! It's fixed at 2:00, but the mist! You can only see a short distance.

W: But don't you see the wind's beginning to lift it up? I bet it will be fine this afternoon.

M: Don't be so sure. I think the weather is always changing.

W: You've heard the forecast this morning, haven't you?

M: No. That's why I'm worried.

W: Why not try the 24-hour telephone weather forecast service?

M: Gee! How come I didn't think of that? I'll do it right away.

M: What's your favourite sport, Susan?

W: Soccer.

M: Why?

W: It's a good game. But, like most of us, I just watch it. I watch a soccer match nearly every Saturday afternoon either at the local stadium or on TV. What about you, John? Do you play soccer?

M: I'm afraid not. And I don't watch it either. I know it's Britain's most popular outdoor game, but I never liked it, not even when I was at school.

W: But don't you watch the Cup finals and the great international matches between British teams and other national teams?

M: Very rarely. My favourite game is basketball. I began playing it when I was in the middle school and I've kept it up ever since.

W: It's a very interesting, isn't it?

M: Yes, it is. It has become popular in many countries. Do you enjoy watching basketball matches, especially NBA? They're very interesting and exciting.

W: Yes, I watch them on TV.

How does television affect our lives? It can be helpful to those who carefully choose the programmes that they watch and harmful to those who watch it too much.

In China, many people worry that children and young people are watching too much television. A survey of 300 young people in Shanghai last year showed that, on average, they spent half of their free time, that is two and a half hours watching television. And two-thirds of an hour reading stories. Another survey of school-age children in Wuhan found that half of them said they read very little.

During the Olympic Games, tens of millions of Chinese viewers stayed up late to watch the opening ceremonies and other programmes. A recent survey found that 63% of those surveyed got their news from television.

短文改错

Once there were an old woman. She had a lot of money. She was kind and generously. She always did something to help the poor. At Christmas, she handed out food, that was made by herself, to the poor. She handed out a turkey leg but a potato to every homeless person he saw. The homeless people love her very much. One homeless men even took out a penny that she wanted to give it to her as a gift. She felt good. She was determined to do more, so she gave $ 50 with every homeless person she saw.

书面表达

One possible version:

Dear Lisa,

I'm glad to tell you that our school will hold the Campus Song Competition. It is scheduled to be held at 8 am on January 1st at the school hall to celebrate the New Year. I sincerely invite you to attend it and be a judge in the competition.

It's required that each class should choose the most talented singer to compete with students from other classes. Besides, competitors can only sing a campus song. The competition is held to enrich students' school life. I wish you can come. If you can sing a song at the end of the competition, it must be a big surprise for every student.

I'm looking forward to your early reply.

Yours sincerely,
Li Hua
